

'Poetry Off the Page' Blog Submission Guide

Poetry off the Page is an online, international platform for anyone interested in the study and analysis of Anglophone spoken word and poetry performance from the 1960s to the present day.

The 'Poetry off the Page' blog is an academic platform dedicated to original poetry performance research. The PoP blog provides a space for researchers to present new ideas, apply and/or question existing methodologies and theoretical approaches, and analyse new developments in the field such as performance analysis and historiography, archiving audio-visual files, authorship and performativity, archiving, (re-)mediation and mediatization, interviewing, and the interface between poetry performance studies and theory. Sample analyses are welcome where they serve to illustrate observations on theory or methodology.

The PoP blog is edited by the Poetry off the Page team at the Department of English and American Studies at the University of Vienna.

Contributions are licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License and are also published with a DOI on Phaidra, the University of Vienna's research repository.

If you would like to submit a guest post for consideration, please include

- Your personal contact details
- Title of your blog post
- Short abstract (max. 50 words)
- Short bio (100 words)
- Up to 5 keywords
- Your article (1,000–3,000 words) formatted using MLA 9 style (for specifics, see Purdue University's MLA Formatting and Style Guide)
- Please ensure that your blog post clearly identifies your source texts/recordings, AV links, relevant methodologies/critical approaches, references and acknowledgements.

Please email your text to pop.anglistik@univie.ac.at.

We look forward to hearing from you.

universität
wien

European Research Council
Established by the European Commission

FWF

Der Wissenschaftsfonds.